Dear Requester:

Thank you for your request for permission to use material from the publications(s) of the University of Chicago Press. Permission is granted for use as stated below. Unless specifically granted below, this permission does not allow the use of our material in any other edition or by any additional means of reproduction including (by way of example) motion pictures, sound tapes, electronic formats, and phonograph records; nor does this permission cover book clubs, translations, abridgment, or selections which may be made of the publication. No subsequent use may be made without additional approval. This permission is subject to the following terms:

1. ~~On each copy of the selection full credit must be given to the book or journal, to the author (as well as to the series, editor, or translator, if any), and to the University of Chicago as publisher. In addition, the acknowledgment must include the identical copyright notice as it appears in our publication~~
2. This permission does not apply to any part of the selection which is independently copyrighted or which bears a separate source notation. The responsibility for determining the source of the material rests with the prospective publisher of the quoted material.
3. ~~This permission includes use in Braille, large type, or other editions of your work by non-profit organizations solely for use by the visually handicapped provided no fees are charged. The limitations listed in clause 4, below, do not apply to such use.~~
4. ~~This permission covers publication of one edition of the work up to copies.~~
5. Permission granted is non-exclusive and, unless otherwise stated, is valid throughout the world in the English language only.
6. Author approval is not required.
7. Permission is granted GRATIS.
8. ~~This permission is void if more than 10% of your forthcoming work, exclusive of index and bibliography, is composed of University of Chicago Press material.~~
